

This is the third year this unit is taught at the University of Bristol. During the first two years there has been some amazing work produced as extensions to the labs. Below is a gallery of some of this work.